

Birds of the World (BOW)

Auszug aus dem Lizenzvertrag
Abridged version of License Agreement

Now, therefore, the parties agree as follows:

1. Copyright in BOW (including all text, images, illustrations, audio, video, charts, graphs and multimedia contained therein) is owned by Cornell University. Licensor reserves the right to add and remove content from BOW at any time, without notice.

4. This License grants access to BOW solely to Authorized Users (...). Authorized Users include the employees, faculty, staff, students, researchers and patrons officially affiliated with Licensee, as well as to both on-site and authenticated off-site users of Licensee's library facilities. (...)

7. Authorized uses. Licensee and Authorized Users may use BOW solely for research and educational purposes as is consistent with the Fair Use principles of United States and international copyright laws, including the following:

a. Licensee and Authorized Users may save BOW content and make single printed copies of individual species accounts for individual use or research. In each case, users must make an appropriate citation, found on the bottom of each account.

b. Multiple copies of BOW content may be made for classroom use, provided that a) no charge is made for such copies, other than a nominal charge to cover the cost of reprography; b) such copies are not made or distributed for commercial advantage; and c) copies bear the following copyright notice: © Cornell University – All Rights Reserved.

c. Licensee and Authorized Users may provide hyperlinks from the Licensee's and Authorized Users' web page(s), web site(s), or LibGuides to individual units of content within BOW.

8. Prohibited uses. Materials from BOW may not be used for commercial purposes and may not be recompiled, manipulated, modified, translated, used to prepare derivative works, distributed (except as provided under Section 7) or republished in another format (including but not limited to social media sites) without prior written permission from Licensor in each instance.
