

MPG. PuRe

Publication Repository

The Institutional Publication Repository of the MPG

Present your publication output to the world

MPG.PuRe is the institutional publication repository of the Max Planck Society for all Max Planck researchers.

Why use MPG.PuRe?

Enhance the visibility and availability of your scientific work. Get listed in the MPG's official year book, in Google Scholar or other search engines. Present your papers, self-publish your posters or comments and obtain persistent identifiers like DOIs. Integrate your publications and publication lists easily into your personal blog, your project homepage or into your institute's web-site if applicable. Meet the requirements of your funding organization by depositing your scientific material in our trusted and OpenAIRE-compliant repository. Support the Green Road to Open Access by using MPG.PuRe.

Questions?

Ask your local librarian or contact the MPG.PuRe Team by visiting the repository website: <http://pure.mpg.de>

www.mpd.l.mpg.de

MAX PLANCK
digital library

2015 | 06