

Want more than papers?

650,000 e-books are waiting for you at MPG.eBooks

We provide access to a copious supply of e-books from well-known publishers like Springer, Wiley and Elsevier but also to very specialized collections covering all scientific disciplines.

This stock of different sources is grouped together in a single, easy-to-use search interface:

MPG.eBooks. It helps you to navigate through the abundance by offering simple and expert search functionalities, multiple filtering and sorting options and several ways to organize and export your search results.
